

Two financial measures have been introduced this week in the United States Senate. One by Senator Smith of New Jersey provides for a temporary bond issue pending investigation by a monetary commission to be composed of Senators, Representatives and civilians. The other is by Senator Jones of Arkansas and it provides for a bond issue and conditional restoration of silver.

The Jones bill authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury to issue $500,000 in bonds, payable in coin of gold and silver, which mature in thirty years, and may be redeemed in twenty years. The bonds are to be of the denominations of $20 and $50 and in multiples of these amounts and are to be exempt from taxation. They are to be paid for in gold, to be issued by the Secretary of the Treasury may accept in lieu of United States notes and Treasury notes, and the bonds are to be used for the redemption of the Government's legal tender and for the redemption of national banks. The bill also provides that the amount of the bonds deposited with the Secretary of the Treasury, and the interest on the same, shall be paid to the holders of the bonds at all times to keep on deposit with the Treasurer of the United States, a sum equal to 15 per cent of the outstanding circulating notes. All National bank and United States Treasury notes of denominations less than $10 are to be displaced with silver certificates.

The bill is intended to popularize the bond issue as any person can invest gold coin, from $20 upwards, in interest bearing bonds, provided, of course, that the person has the gold to invest. The retirement of all notes, whether greenbacks or National bank notes, of less than $10, will create a demand for silver certificates of smaller denominations. As these certificates cannot be issued unless there are $10 and dollars in the Treasury which to redeem them, it will necessitate the issue of silver dollars to an amount equal to the demand for the certificates. In that way it would increase the demand for silver to supply the country with change.

THE RAILROAD INDEBTEDNESS.

The Publishing Company, not one member of which ever dared to publicly express an adverse opinion of the Reilly Funding bill or any other railroad measure, is not pleased with the resolution passed by the State Senate relative to the railroad indebtedness. It was not expected that members of the Publishing Company, who trust no railroad pay would be satisfied with that resolution, but they have to swallow it nevertheless. As the principal aim of the Publishing Company's existence seems to be to snarl and bark at the Silver party and refer to the fact that many of its members were formerly Democrats, it endeavors to create the impression that the Silver party is not true to its pledges on the railroad question. How much ground there is for this insinuation may be seen by a comparison of the planks of the party platform and the resolutions adopted by the State Senate. The platform says:

"We demand the collection of the indebtedness of the Pacific railway companies to the United States, at its maturity, without any extension of time or change of terms or conditions."

The resolution adopted by the Senate says:

"That we demand the collection of the indebtedness of the Pacific railway companies to the United States, at its maturity, upon the same principle that individual demands are paid."

Too many are painfully aware of the principle upon which individual demands are enforced to require explanation, as it means without an extension of time or change of terms.

Again the Silver party platform reads:

"Demands the enforcement of the Interstate Commerce Act everywhere."

The resolution adopted by the Senate on this important question reads as follows:

"And be it further resolved that we demand the enforcement of the Interstate Commerce Act everywhere, so that unjust discrimination may be prohibited."

Does not that fully cover the ground of the platform and carry out its principles to the letter? If the Interstate Commerce Act is enforced, Reno, Washoe, Elko and intermediate points will get freights from the East as cheap as they are carried to San Francisco by rail, yet the Publishing Company, though one of its members privately admits that he pays three times the rates on freight from Illinois that are charged for the same class of freight to San Francisco, 300 miles farther west, never whimpers about the charges or protests against the injustice, presumably for the reason that other members of the Publishing Company do not wish to incur the displeasure of the railroad company.

A COUNTER MOVE.

The Union Pacific Railroad Company defaulted in the payment of interest on the first mortgage bonds. The bond holders have brought suit to foreclose their mortgage. This is believed to be a menace to force Congress to pass the Reilly or some other funding bill to protect the Government from loss on the second mortgage bonds which it holds as security for the payment of the money which it advanced to the Union Pacific on the bonds and the money it will have to pay out to redeem the bonds at maturity.

To offset this sharp practice on the part of the Union Pacific Company and the holders of the first mortgage bonds, Senator Palmer of Illinois has introduced a bill which provides for a payment of the first mortgage bonds in standard silver dollars. If sufficient of these silver dollars to pay the bonds are coined and in the hands of the Government, it is in the hands of the Government. The bill provides that the Secretary of the Treasury shall coin and issue silver dollars to the amount of the bonds deposited with the Secretary of the Treasury, and the interest on the same, shall be paid to the holders of the bonds at all times to keep on deposit with the Treasurer of the United States, a sum equal to 15 per cent of the outstanding circulating notes. All National bank and United States Treasury notes of denominations less than $10 are to be displaced with silver certificates.

It is not probable, however, that the bill will pass. Congress and the Administration are opposed to the coinage of any considerable number of silver dollars for any purpose, and they do not desire to incur the displeasure of the bond holders by redeeming railroad or any other bonds in standard dollars.

THE BROOKLYN STRIKE.

A Probability of Its Being Called Off. Brooklyn, January 24.—About 8 o'clock this morning the Seventeenth precinct police had a lively fight with wire-cutting strikers at Broadway and Sumpter streets and captured two. One was so badly clubbed that he was taken to the station in an ambulance.

An attempt was made to open a cross-town line with a non-union crew, guarded by policemen and militia. The strikers stoned each car. All windows were broken and seven motorists injured, but the mobs were dispersed by the police, who clubbed the strikers. The cars were taken through Justice Gaynor decided to grant a mandamus compelling the railroad companies to operate a sufficient number of cars to accommodate the public.

At the strike headquarters to-day it is the general opinion that the strike is about to run its course. The strikers seemed despondent. There will be a conference this afternoon, it is said, to discuss the propriety of calling off the strike.

SAN FRANCISCO CORRUPTION.

A Committee to be Appointed to Expose It. Sacramento, January 24.—The resolution of calling for the investigation of corruption in the San Francisco Police Department was the special order this morning.

Waymire of Alameda said that the Levee Committee was appointed by virtue of a statute and offered a substitute resolution, directing the Attorney General to draft a law granting authority to the Committee to investigate the police, and also the San Francisco election frauds, and that the Committee shall sit as long as necessary. The substitute was adopted—75 to 4.

WASHINGTON, January 24.—Representative Childs of Illinois to-day introduced a bill to incorporate the National Central Railway Company. The bill authorizes it to construct and maintain a continuous railway from the Hudson river at or near Jersey City or New York City, or from some point in New York to San Francisco on any line it may select, reference being had to the shortest preferable route.

THE JAPS MARCHING ON.

They Disperse the Chinese and Effect a Landing.

The Japanese dispersed the Chinese and landed marines without loss, capturing four guns and the Shan Hai Light House.

WHEN THERE'S DANGER!

Physicians Use, Prescribe, Recommend Paine's Celery Compound.

More words of praise have been written and spoken by well known men and women in every section of the country within the past few years for the famous compound first prescribed by Prof. J. H. Paine, of Dartmouth College, than have been bestowed upon all other remedies put together.

More physicians in high standing are using, prescribing and recommending Paine's celery compound than any other prepared remedy in the world.

More space is devoted in many a medical journal to the wonderful cures Paine's celery compound effects than to any other one subject.

Paine's celery compound is pre-eminently the remedy that makes people well.

W. Allen Hubbard, M. D. 70 West Cedar, is one of Boston's best physicians. He says what hundreds of other physicians have said before, and his experience adds one more to the hundreds already published, that Paine's celery compound is undoubtedly the highest product of the medical knowledge of this century.

"The formula of Paine's celery compound," he says, "interested me because of its scientific value, and I prescribed the remedy in a number of cases where the blood was impoverished and the nerves weakened. The results were so satisfactory that I do not hesitate to endorse Paine's celery compound as a most valuable remedy."

J. H. Hanford, M. D. whose writings in journals of national circulation have endeared him to thousands, he said: "The formula of Paine's celery compound which, was submitted to me, was so satisfactory that I have used the medicine personally, and with much benefit. I have prescribed it with most excellent results."

The well known Boston physician and surgeon, Dr. A. W. K. Newton, whose portrait is given above, states very emphatically that this compound is the most reliable tonic and strength-giver that he has found for the peculiar and dangerous condition of the system that follows the grip. "Paine's celery compound," he writes, "is not a patent medicine, and it is not to be confounded with the ordinary nervines, bitters or sarsaparillas. It is as much superior to them in formula and results as the diamond is superior to glass. It purifies the blood, strengthens the nerves, and is nature's food for the brain."

"I had some trouble myself," he writes, "from blood poisoning, received in a very delicate surgical operation. The formula of Paine's celery compound led me to try it, and I was much pleased with the result. I prescribed it for men and women who have no appetite, cannot sleep, and are weak and run down. For this condition and disorders of the blood and nerves it has no equal."

"When a man or woman has lost appetite, lost sleep, and feels that life is a burden, that person is in a serious condition. I prescribe Paine's celery compound for my patients who have these common and dangerous symptoms, with invariably satisfactory results." It is the best possible remedy to keep up one's strength during the winter months.

THE KENNEDY MINES.

What The New Era Says About Them.

With the advent of Spring,—renewal of life and busy times in Kennedy is imminent if not certain.

The one question which presently agitates the mind of the speculative public is: "Will a free milling process be evolved to successfully work the Kennedy ores?" An affirmative reply might at present be extreme; it would immediately set going the cog-wheel of calculation and leave little room for doubt as to the eventuality of the camp. "By successfully" we mean to percentage within reason,—put it at eighty or even seventy per cent for the encouragement of those who hold properties of undisputed merit; and further that many promising prospects of worth, from which surface assays are astounding, merely await a proper development.

Such mines as the "Gold Note," the "Hidden Treasure," the "Fridge of the Mountain," and the "Imperial" need no laudation. They are properties which have paid the costs of development from the grass roots in and further more have paid such rates as $10 per ton for team, and $5 per ton for railroad transportation, and still declared handsome returns after such rates and the cost of working had been met.

Properties that pay dividends over and above expense of from $25 to $35 per ton need no praise, but will find their level as truly as the water trickles from their tunnel sides.

The facts throughout the world in general, and more so than ever before in our own country, capital is thoroughly stagnated and seeks investment if any, solely upon the most approved and gilt edged showings, in some extent accounts for the backwardness of results here in our camp. The usual timidity of money and the ultra precaution proceeding all centralization of capital for methodical purposes has done not a little towards dampening an outcome, which some few years ago would have been reached with half the parley and delay. Furthermore a surprising laxity of enterprise for some reason pervades the community—speaking generally. They seemed to lose sight of the advantages to be gained by energetic effort and personal correspondence with those most interested in mining matters.

One thing more has held advancement in serious check. It is the absurdly high figure placed upon properties of limited development. Original owners, unable through lack of capital to develop their claims materially, have held them at such ridiculously high prices as to keep out men of financial means, who would willingly meet fair advances but cannot stand nonsensical values for mere prospects. Such doubtful policy has worked undoubted injury and grossly retarded the income of capital and enterprise.

Let those who have fair prospects which they cannot develop with their own means, turn them, under reasonable terms, to those who are financially situated to handle them properly; let the people re-energize themselves and rouse themselves to business-like method, and a great change will be wrought; let capital regain composure and former confidence and put forth its old time vim in seeking paying investments, and Kennedy's future would instantly come from under the shadow of a doubt.

WINTER IN THE SIERRA.

Truckee and its Surroundings in the Sierras During the Snowy Season.

The storm continues and the snow becomes deeper and deeper. Snow shoveling is the popular occupation here at present. Snow slides in the mountains are common and delayed trains are frequent.

Truckee presents an appearance that is at once novel and picturesque. To the average Californian, who is accustomed to see green fields and blooming flowers, it seems a marvel. The whole town is enveloped in the emblem of purity to the depth of several feet, while icicles in their crystal splendor adorn the eaves of every house. The rotary snowplow as it drives up and down the track, throwing a stream of snow a distance of a hundred feet or more, is a sight that would interest the most stoic observer. In order to cross a street in Truckee one must climb from the sidewalk on steps in the snow to the street and then descend on the other. People on one side of the street cannot see those on the other. In many places the snow is so deep around the eaves of the houses that it has to be shoveled away from in front of the windows in order to let light enter the house.

Justice Court.

The Chinamen arrested the other evening in the opium joints were arraigned before Justice Linn yesterday afternoon. T. V. Julien, as attorney for the Celestials, asked for the mercy of the Court in passing sentence, claiming that if the fine was placed at an amount that could be raised by the defendants or their friends they would probably pay it, and would be more careful in the future. The Judge expressed a profound sympathy for the unfortunate and agreed with the attorney that times were hard and he had no doubt that the lesson thus far impressed would have its good effect, but in view of the law and the evidence he would give the defendants an opportunity to ponder over their mistake and hoped that they would profit thereby. He then sentenced Ah Sney, Ah Hing and Ah Hung to pay a fine of $25 or twelve and a half days in jail each for smoking opium. The last two paid the fine and were discharged. Ching Goo and Dam Pon were fined $50 or twenty-five days in jail each for owning a house where opium was smoked. Ching Goo eloquently but emphatically compared the county jail to hades. Well and Happy

Thanks to Hood's Sarsaparilla—Dull Headaches—That Tired Feeling.

Mr. W. H. Toles, San Francisco, Cal.

"One of the greatest mistakes people make is to lock the door after the horse is stolen, or other words, to wait until they are sick in bed before they do anything for the poor body. Neither my wife nor myself were real sick; I attended to my business, and my wife to her household duties daily. But we had dull, heavy headaches, and a little over-exertion would tire us greatly, and my appetite was very poor. So we took three boxes of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and the result was perfectly satisfactory. I believe Hood's Sarsaparilla."

Saved Us a Severe Sickness.

And a big doctor's bill. If people would only moderate the amount of prevention is worth a pound of cure; there would be less suffering in the world. My advice to all who do not feel
